Dear Uncle Robbie,

Thank you for your email. The online program has been updated to correctly reflect your name.

Processing and publishing of submissions is not an automated process. Your submission has been provided to the committee and the committee will make decisions about its acceptance and publication at the earliest opportunity. Once the committee has made those decisions, you will receive a formal acknowledgement advising you of such.

Yours sincerely,
Sophie Dunstone.

Dear Uncle Robbie,

The committee is the decision-maker in relation to your submission. The Chair is unable to make decisions unilaterally.

As I stated in my earlier email, the committee has been provided with your submission and will make decisions about its acceptance and publication at the earliest opportunity. Once the committee has made those decisions, you will receive a formal acknowledgement advising you of such.

Yours sincerely,
Sophie Dunstone.

1. This is about allocating an administrative number to each purported submission document received by the Secretariat before the closing date for submissions. This is an administrative reference number and does not indicate acceptance/rejection of the purported submission document.

3. This is about the public document program.pdf accurately reflecting that a purported submission document ID [allocated administrative number] has been received from the Witness invited to appear at the hearing but not yet processed by the decision-maker, the Committee, whether for acceptance only or for acceptance and publishing.
